

In 250 words or less: In your own words - describe the concept and mechanisms used in inheritance:

Inheritance is when a class inherits their attributes from another class. By assigning an object to a category and that category can be expanded from another category. That way it gains attributes from the parent and has its own added.